A Bacon Dinner & Book Signing To Benefit The Southern Foodways Alliance

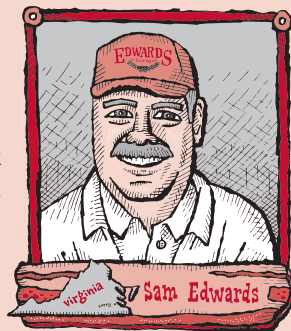

Tuesday, July 28 @ 7pm

Buy a Bacon Book, Get it Signed @ 6pm "Zingerman's Guide to Better Bacon" $29.99

Southern Foodways Alliance (www.southernfoodways.com) is a non-profit organization whose mission is to document and celebrate the diverse food cultures of the South. Their research has helped bring Roadhouse staples such as Eastern North Carolina pulled pork barbecue, Mason Tennessee buttermilk fried chicken, Anson Mills grits to Ann Arbor and even Edwards' bacon.

Sam Edwards, whose bacon is served at this dinner, will be our special guest. He'll share stories from his almost-century-old family business, and talk about making better bacon!

The dinner, crafted by James Beard-nominated Chef Alex Young, and excerpted from Ari's latest book, Zingerman's Guide to Better Bacon, will feature bacon from beginning to end. Starting with appetizers, bacons hailing from all around the country will be the star of each course, including dessert. With vastly different flavor profiles (think olive oil here) these bacons represent the nuanced flavors of the better bacon being made by passionate individuals like Sam Edwards!
